Pregnancy, Surgery and Sexual Dysfunction in Inflammatory Bowel Disease

Royal College of Physicians of Ireland
26th April 2019

Organiser: Dr Aoibhlinn O'Toole (Dublin)

Welcome

Dear colleague,

We are delighted to welcome you to join us in Dublin for the Pregnancy, Surgery and Sexual Dysfunction in Inflammatory Bowel Disease Forum.

This one day forum will aim to address quality of life and reproductive issues in patients with inflammatory bowel disease including pregnancy, fatherhood, incontinence, sexual dysfunction and genital manifestations of IBD.

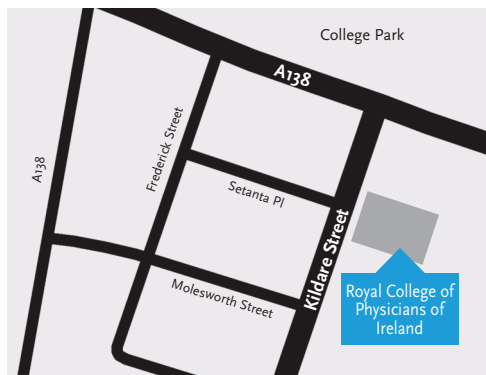

National speakers from Beaumont Hospital and the Royal College of Surgeons of Ireland will be joined by leading experts from the United States and Denmark to present lectures, discuss difficult cases and debate current controversies. Therefore the meeting is relevant to all members of The IBD multidisciplinary team, Gastroenterologists and trainees, Colorectal Surgeons, trainees and IBD advanced nurse practitioners and clinical nurse specialists.

We will encourage active discussion and welcome submission of difficult cases so that we can work together to enhance quality of life for patients living with inflammatory bowel disease.

We look forward to seeing you in Dublin in 2019

Regards

Aoibhlinn O'Toole

Location:
Royal College of Physicians of Ireland
No 6 Kildare Street
Dublin 2
Ireland
